

Teaching Language Skills

Prerequisite: 31301

Credit Hours: (2)

This course studies essential linguistic factors for teaching of the receptive skills (listening and reading) and the productive skills (speaking and writing). Analyzing communicative models related to language skills, levels of learning these skills, and the steps of teaching them are under consideration.