

Psycholinguistics

Prerequisite: 31300, 31301

Credit Hours: (2)

This course introduces fundamental concepts of psycholinguistics and related learning theories. It also considers first language acquisition, foreign language learning, and effective factors involved in language learning such as: language aptitude, intelligence, motivation, and various aspects of aphasia.